Re: spring newsletter

Always thanks you for continued residency, and please be all eyes and ears and call if you see anything that needs attention or improvement. We express our gratitude for any rental referrals who rent our vacancies with a $100 referrals check.

FIRST please share with your neighbors that some SoCalWi-Fi free internet user(s) have been peer to peer sharing illegal downloads. That puts our entire Wi-Fi community at risk. Anyone sharing illegally downloaded files shall have their computer access permanently removed from the server, without further notice. COX lawyers have written us two letters about this activity, and this is your only notice – about ramifications for abusers.

In addition, we are hunting for volunteer nerds and geeks to help Drew with our cyber community. Drew is only one person, and we need to build a network of community volunteers to help out. Community volunteers will make sure the internet is working, and assist with designs and upgrades. Please help/contact SoCal Freenet help Golden Hill, or leave a message with us at 239-2278, thanks.

SECOND, the good news is the Golden Hill Farmer's Market will open Saturday, beginning April 2nd, 8am until noon. Location is B Street between 27th and 28th, and manager Brian Beevers is committed to marketing organic produce only! Please tell all your friends, and even your enemies.

THIRD any resident interested in raised-bed garden farming are kindly urged to leave us a message at 619-239-BART.

Erica Davies a former resident will have a splendid concert at the Marble Room, March 5, beginning at 9pm, until midnight! Her nuanced music is a huge treat to hear, always.

$50 monthly for garage for rent, at 906 21st Street: we search for innovative startup business! Any great business begins in some garage, so let us make this available to you or friends.

Every newsletter we like to showcase three of our residents who do amazing things they call 'work'! Santiago's Latin band, Todo Mundo (All the World) draws on the musical styling of samba, reggae, rumba (www.todomundomusic.com). See them live at San Diego INDIEFEST March 12th-13th. Also fellow resident Cara runs The Prosperity Hive at 740 13th Street, #503, where unlimited yoga is $45 monthly. The Prosperity Hive has everything - dance/yoga studio/community center/distribution site for farm-fresh local food/honey/jewelry/music/art gallery/events! Amazing accolades to Billy building underwater robots in the garage with City College team competing worldwide against Princeton, Cal-Tech, Japan, EUC. Annual competition for San Diego City College Autonomous Robotics Program is held here in our temperate ocean, and with 1/20 fraction of big shot budgets they are kicking butt!

"We shall overcome," although perhaps not this time around. Question authority, be well, and stay in touch. Bart
